Trial Run Summer Quarter

Continuous Registration System Planned

by Walt Hickox
Contributing Writer

Beginning Summer Quarter, the Registrar's Office will implement a new continuous registration system aimed at decreasing the amount of time students spend at registration.

To be called "Computer Optional On-Line Registration System" (C.O.O.R.S.), the program will be operated on a "trial basis," according to ASC Registrar, George Hunnicutt.

Under the new system, students ready to register and pay fees, must pick up permits (OP Scan forms) to register from the Registrar's Office. Then, students must see their advisor for academic advisement. At this meeting, the advisor will validate the student's schedule. Following validation, students should go to the computer center (located in Jenkins Hall) and process their schedule in on-line manner.

Students will receive a printed schedule which also serves as an invoice for fee payment. However, fees must be paid on the same day of registration or schedules will be cancelled.

Continuous registration will be held June 9-11 and June 14-18, at the Registration Center in the Administration Building during the following hours:

Mon.-Thurs.	9 a.m.-12 p.m. 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. 5 p.m. - 7 p.m.
Friday	9 a.m.- 12 p.m. 1 p.m. - 4 p.m.

Class Hour Change Under Consideration

by Brenda Hall
Editor

Dr. Jerry Sandy, Director of the Lane Library, has proposed that classes begin on the hour instead of the half hour beginning fall quarter.

Dr. Sandy, other department head, directors and deans met with Vice President Robert Burnett and President Henry Ashmore last week for the quarterly meeting of the Administrative Council to discuss improvements and changes to the curriculum.

Dr. Sandy initiated the proposal for the change in class periods last December in a memo to Dr. Ashmore. "I think students will be better off if they have five hours to select classes from instead of four," Dr. Sandy said. Under Dr. Sandy's proposal, classes would begin at 8 a.m. and continue on the hour until 3 p.m. Night classes will remain on the half-hour starting time.

SGA Vice President Tai Groover has voiced his disapproval for the proposed change. If Dr. Sandy's proposal is instituted, the 'free period' (which was one of the Senate's major projects this year) will be moved from 12:30-1:30 p.m. to 1 p.m.-2 p.m.

"If the free period is moved to 1 p.m.," Groover said, "it will negate the whole purpose of the free period." The one hour of no scheduled classes each day is used by the various activities, committees, and intramurals in an effort to involve more students.

Dr. Sandy disagreed with the reasoning that students are going off campus to work by 1 p.m. "If they knew classes were over with, students still would participate in events during the free period. I don't think it will hurt the free period," he said.

Dr. Sandy went on to say that students who want to participate, will with or without a free period. "I

For Coming Year

S.G.A. Senate Approves Budget

by Walt Hickox
Contributing Writer

On April 29, the Student Senate approved the 1982-83 Student Activities Budget based on projected revenues of $110,000.

Funding for the Student Activities Budget comes from the $17.50 fee paid by each student each quarter as a Student Activity Fee.

Every Spring, the Finance Committee holds budget hearings to draft a proposed budget which is then submitted to the Senate.

A total of 12 organizations requested funding for 1982-83. While most of the organizations were pleased with the Budget Committee's recommendations and the Senate's approval, others are less than pleased.

The Bowling team's request of $5,050. was cut by the Finance Committee to $3,000 and then trimmed by the full Senate to $1,500.

When asked if the team could operate on $1,500. Dr. Roy Sims, advisor to the bowling teams, replied, "no."

"Unless the bowlers agree to foot the majority of expenses," Coach Sims said, "there will be no bowling team."

Intercollegiate bowling cannot be funded by the athletic fee because bowling fails to meet two criteria outlined by both the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) and National Association for Intercollegiate Activities (NAIA).

Under NCAA and NAIA guidelines, for an activity to be considered a sport, the activity must be strenuous and the activity must be recognized by the Olympics. According to Dr. Sims, "bowling is neither strenuous nor recognized by the Olympics. Therefore, it is not considered a sport."

When asked how he felt about the Senate's decision, Dr. Sims said, "It's obvious that they don't want to sponsor bowling. The Senate is shirking their responsibility to those they represent."

Similar feelings were echoed by John Suchower, Director of the Masquers, whose budget request was cut from $21,000 to $5,000.

"Being underbudgeted means that we will never be able to produce or finance the type of programs we're used to producing, and the students expect," Mr. Suchower said. "They tie our hands and expect us to do something with virtually nothing. Then we exceed expectations and next year they (Senate) say you did it with that amount, now you can do it for less," he said.

Reflections... From The Editor's Desk

by Brenda S. Hall

As I take this opportunity to reflect on my tenure as Editor of the ASC INKWELL, I find it to be a very difficult task.

This past year has been rewarding, challenging and frustrating.

When I agreed to accept the responsibility and authority of the editor's position, I wasn't fully aware of what all it encompassed.

I only knew I wanted to prove to myself and the college that I could improve the INKWELL. And even though the INKWELL is far from being an award winning newspaper, I feel I have accomplished the majority of the goals I set out to do.

The INKWELL has improved in many aspects. My staff and I have tried very hard to offer our readers a variety of stories from current campus news, features, upcoming events and entertainment, sports, and classifieds.

In an effort not to 'bore' the readers with lists of names of people that I'd like to express my gratitude, I will only briefly mention those I feel extremely grateful and indebted for their support and guidance.

There isn't enough time or space for words to express my appreciation for the guidance, advice, support, and assistance that I have received from the INKWELL advisor, Linda Wittish. Ms. Wittish has spent countless hours training not only myself, but the INKWELL staff, in proper journalistic procedures. She has unselfishly given her time and expertise in an effort to guide the INKWELL in the direction for which one day it may become an award winning college newspaper. There were many times I contemplated resigning due to the criticisms and my inability to please everyone. But it is very difficult to give up and quit when someone constantly stands behind you and shows their support and confidence. I have a great deal of respect for Ms. Wittish and I am very grateful for the opportunity of working for her.

As any newspaper reporter or editor knows, it is very frustrating to attempt to put a story together and be confronted with "no comment" or closed doors. During the time I have been editor, I have never been refused an interview or a comment on any subject by Armstrong's President, Dr. Henry L. Ashmore or Mr. John Stegall, Vice President for Business and Finance. On several occasions the stories for which I was investigating were controversial and not always in the best interest of public relations for the college, but I have always been treated with respect and courtesy by both Dr. Ashmore and Mr. Stegall. I am extremely grateful for their support and voiced appreciation of my efforts.

Last but not least, I would like to extend a special 'thank you' to my staff and the Student Photographic Service. It was not always fun and games. There are several all night vigils over the light table and breakfast at Sambo's we will remember. I only hope they reflect on those times as learning experiences that will prove rewarding someday.

In this last communique with my readers, I would like to say that I tried to the best of my ability to give you a newspaper to be proud of. I learned very early this year that even the best won't please everybody. To those of you who were dissatisfied with the final products we delivered, I can only say they must not have been too bad because I can count on one hand the 'Letter's To The Editor' I received this year.

My congratulations to fellow journalist and editor, Martha Boutin of the Geechee on a superb job this year and a well deserved 'thank you.'

And, yes Windell and Martha, we made it through the whole year!

Thank You

Alumni Alley

by Shirley Goodson
Director of Alumni Affairs

If you have ever felt sorry for someone, you would have to for Margaret Parker, that secretary you see picking one crutch up and putting it down as fast as she can. Would you believe she broke her ankle on Easter Sunday and will be in a cast till the Fourth of July? Now that is really celebrating holidays--or as I always say, to each his own!

Chancellor Crawford's visit to campus really was a whirlwind. I heard those interviews hardly got started and then were over. He really covered a lot of ground though and saw a lot of people. Now hopefully, he'll put it all together and get us started on our future. The president and president-elect of the Alumni Association met with him over dinner and enjoyed a four-hour visit. They both were impressed with the Chancellor's background knowledge of events in Savannah and came away feeling that Armstrong's position had been covered fully.

gave his slide presentation of Armstrong's contribution to the community at our monthly Alumni Board Meeting, and the members were impressed. They had no idea of the impact of Armstrong in the community other than academic. It's a good show, and available free to clubs and churches. Take advantage--why don't you tell your club program director and get it set up for the coming year? Armstrong can use all the good, free publicity it can garner.

Susannah Rockwell, Board member and employee of the college put it so well, I thought, when she said, "We have an industry here. We don't sell planes or paper bags, but we produce young adults that will contribute to our community, and that is the greatest resource a city can have."

The Gift-in-Kind Program is active again. The Department of Medical Record Technology was the recipient of a new heart model through the efforts of the Alumni Association...and they didn't have to walk the yellow brick road either!

Student-Alumni club member Gail Goslee and her many "willing hands" at BSU earn a big THANK-YOU from me for helping with a bulk mail-out from this office last week. Almost 4,000 flyers got into the mail on time thanks to their help. By the way, got another coming up in June.

Did you know that Dan Reynolds ('76) was recently promoted to the rank of Captain in the Savannah Police Department...that Ricky Hucks ('76) was promoted to the rank of sergeant also in the SPD...that Don Roberts ('81) graduated from OCS in Quantico, Virginia, as a second lieutenant (graduated second in his class, too)...that Carlton Chupp ('78) is territorial manager of Case Power and Equipment...that Mike DeVoss ('81) is working with space shuttle program in Titusville, Florida...Marilyn Heim ('81) has gone to work with Delta Airlines as programmer...and that Frank Moulis ('81) will be attending the University of Georgia School of Pharmacy in the fall?

The INKWELL takes great pleasure in spotlighting this week's most deserved employee of Armstrong State College.

Linda Wittish, Assistant to the Director of Public Information, has the challenging task of providing the public with pertinent information concerning the college through the electronic media and print media.

She is also tasked with coordinating the various brochures highlighting the many programs offered at Armstrong. Somewhere in her hectic schedule, Ms. Wittish also composes and edits the Alumni Newspaper, public service announcements for radio and T.V., a monthly calendar of college events, the Maroon & Gold, and hometown news releases for students named to the Dean's list and ASC graduates.

Ms. Wittish is well renowned for unselfishly volunteering her time and effort on and off campus as evidenced by her assistance in producing the "Geechee Gourmet" cookbook, member of Support Our Scholars Steering Committee, advisor to the campus newspaper, and involvement in Operation Return.

Ms. Wittish arrived at Armstrong in March of '79 as Public Information Coordinator. Although a native of Columbus, Ga., Ms. Wittish grew up in St. Petersburg, Florida. She graduated from Auburn University in 1969 with a bachelor of arts degree in Journalism. Previous employments include Administrative Assistant to the News Director at WSAV-TV3, and staff writer for the Savannah News Press for 2 years where she initiated the 'medical beat.'

Ms. Wittish's accomplishments on campus are seldom viewed by the everyday student or faculty member, and are occasionally taken for granted.

The many hours she contributes to the college are enumerable. She has spent many evenings in the INKWELL office assisting the staff in producing the upcoming edition. She readily accepts responsibility and is always willing to lend a hand.

"I really enjoy my job at Armstrong," Ms. Wittish said, "I like the academic atmosphere and the students."

Ms. Wittish's husband is the State Editor for the Savannah News Press and they have a 5 year old daughter, Erica.

On behalf of Armstrong State College, the INKWELL would like to say "thank you" for a job well done.

S.G.A. Budget

Treasurer for the Student Government Association, said "Taking all things into consideration, it is a good working budget."

"The Senate is charged with the intricate task of trying to adequately fund many organizations, and at the same time balance the budget. It's bad that certain programs can't be funded along the same lines as others," she continued, "but the Senate did their job the best they could."

Although the Senate approved the Finance Committee's recommended budget with minor changes, S.G.A. President Jimmy Ray vetoed the budget because of the drastic cut in finance suffered by the bowling team. However, it is expected that the Senate will override Ray's veto.

Continuous Registration

Students who fail to register during Continuous Registration must late register.

Late registration will be held June 21-23. A late fee of $10 will be charged to students registering during these dates. The last day to register for Summer Quarter is June 23.

After fees are paid, class changes may not be made until the drop-add period (June 22-30). Class changes will be made at the registration center on a first come-first served basis.

"Hopefully students will spread themselves out to eliminate long lines," Mr. Hunnicutt said. "If the system works, we will continue to use C.O.O.R.S. in the future."

Senate Decision Overruled

by Mike Alwan

The use of student activities funds for the renovation of Memorial College Center has now been approved by the Director of Student Activities, Mr. Al Harris.

In a memo to Mr. Art Prosser, director of Business Services concerning the senate's decision not to fund the renovation, Mr. Harris stated that "as advisor to the S.G.A. and manager of the activities budget, I am overruling their recommendation by requesting that you initiate the purchases necessary for the renovation immediately and charge these purchases to surpluses in activities accounts in order to expediate completion of the project."

The memo stated that the funds used for the renovation would be "replenished via absorption of S.G.A. budgeted purchases by general college accounts during the 1982-83 fiscal year." This echoes previous statements by Mr. Harris.

In an interview with Mr. Harris, he again stated his belief that "the senate decision not to allow activities funds to be used at the last senate meeting (April 22) was more a reaction to previous occurrences than a positive action for the benefit of the campus." The "occurrences" include the controversy over the use of student funds to balance the basketball deficit last year, and by administrative opposition to the recently purchased marquee they encountered.

Mr. Harris was "surprised" at the senate's acceptance of his memo, which was read at the senate meeting of May 6. He did not foresee any further action by the senate regarding the renovations, nor did he anticipate any problems with the incoming student administration.

Vice-President for Business and Finance, Mr. John Stegall, acknowledged receiving the memo, and again expressed the Business Office's point of view that the students were in an "advisory position" concerning purchases.

Mr. Stegall said that the purchase of the furniture had been initiated, following receipt of Mr. Harris' memo. The renovations are anticipated to be completed by fall quarter.

Chancellor Explains College Situation

The following is a letter from the Chancellor of the University System of Georgia's Board of Regents that was read to the Armstrong faculty on May 4, 1982.

"During my recent two-day visit to your campus I met more than eighty of you in addition to some of your students and alumni. I enjoyed the opportunity to hear your views on a number of matters related to the future of Armstrong State College. Among other things, I received valuable advice on the membership of a presidential search and screen committee if it is determined that such a committee needs to be appointed.

The decision on how to proceed from this point has not been reached, and will not be until I have had an opportunity to discuss the situation in some detail with the Board of Regents. The option are first, to decide that Armstrong State College will continue in its present mode as a senior college, independent of other colleges except as all University System institutions are related through the governance structure of the System. If this option is chosen I would expect to have a committee appointed within a month of the decision being reached, and would hope that the next president would be named within nine months of the appointment of the committee.

The second option is to change the nature of Armstrong State College by having it affiliated with one or more of the University System colleges in the Savannah area. In that case a search and screen committee may not be required, but if it were it would be constituted differently than under the first option.

In either of the two cases described above, an acting president will be appointed to serve either for a short period, under option one, or a longer period, under option two.

I hope to receive direction from the Board of Regents as quickly as possible, and I will keep you informed of significant progress."

'Inspector Calls' at Armstrong May 20-23

by Mike Alwan

"An Inspector Calls," by the English author J.B. Priestly, will offer entertainment on several levels when the Masquers bring it to the Jenkins Hall stage May 20-23.

On the one hand, it is a mystery thriller in 'the same vein' as the Sherlock Holmes stories by Conan Doyle. But, in addition to its basic spine-tingling qualities, the play has what Mr. Suchower calls an almost 'mystical' element. And on yet another level, it makes a statement about the responsibility, personal and international, of people to one another; a statement with Biblical origins, offering yet another level of satisfaction for the pious members of the audience.

Analysis

The play begins with the arrival of a mysterious police inspector at the house of a prominent English industrialist. The inspector, mysterious because nobody is certain where he came from, is investigating the suicide of a young woman. As the play progresses, we learn that the woman has had some sort of relationship with every member of the industrialist's family, before finally ending her tragic life by her own hand. What becomes evident during the play is that the guilt for the girl's distress (and hence, her suicide), must be shared by each member of the family.

One clue to the "responsibility statement" in the play is the young woman's name: Eva Smith. It is a common name, implying that her lot was also a common one. In addition, the emphasis on shared guilt suggests the shared responsibility of people towards one another. These morals are certainly reinforced by the plot which, in detail, is a very sad story. To learn these details, you will have to come to the play.

In addition to the moralizing, spine-tingling action, and the tragedy, this play also contains a twist at the end which even I don't know.

The playwright, J.B. Priestly, is someone Mr. Suchower thinks "everyone should know." He compared his value as an entertainer during World War II to that of Bob Hope in America. During the war,

Cast Rehearsal

Priestly was one of those responsible for bringing to the London stage "the finest theater since perhaps Shakespeare." And by all accounts, the American troops, for whose benefit much of Priestly's efforts were directed, took their dose of the best of drama with great enjoyment.

Deadline for applications for Editor of Geechee and (CUB) Dance/Concert Chairman and Arts Committee Chairman is May 25 at 5 p.m.

Sunday night, Coach Joe Roberts and the ASC Pirate Baseball team received the announcement they had been waiting for: The Pirates have been invited to play in the District 25 Tournament.

According to Roberts, Sunday's announcement marks the first time the Pirates have received a bid to a post season tournament.

Joining the Pirates in the tournament are Shorter College, Georgia College, Flagler College, and Florida Atlantic.

The unranked Pirates opened Wednesday against 9th ranked Florida Atlantic. The double elimination tournament gives the Pirates one extra game. Roberts said, "The extra game will put a strain on our pitching staff, but there is nothing we can do about it. We just have to go to Jacksonville (Alabama) and give it our best shot."

Pirates lose first game to Florida Atlantic in the ninth inning, 6-5. Bucs will meet either Flagler or Ga. College at 1 p.m. Thursday.

With the nationally ranked teams in their District 25 tournament, the Pirates are fired up and ready to play. Roberts is very confident at the outset of their tournament.

The Pirates possess all the characteristics needed to be the 'Cinderella story' of this tournament. They have shown their dominance against NAIA foes by having a 17-3 record. The Pirates also have the top pitching staff in the nation with a 2.15 ERA. The Pirates have only given up 95 earned runs in 384 innings. They have an impressive .286 team batting average.

The key to the Pirates outcome in the tournament will be how well they execute their hit and run offense.

The Pirates will host the NAIA Region 5 tournament at Grayson Stadium on May 20-22.

Spring Intramural Season Ends Soon

by Kelly Harbaugh

The 1982 Spring Quarter Intramural Season is winding down and the tension is building as the competition in the intramural softball leagues is heating up.

With just two weeks remaining in the season, the Ghetto Sluggers and the Thunder Balls are tied for 1st place in the "Strikes"

League with identical 6-2 records. However, the Longshots are only one game off the pace with a 5-3 record. In the "Balls" League, The Gongas and Sigma Kappa Chi share the lead with 6-2 records. Whereas Sigma Nu and Skidaway are three games back with 3-5 marks. The post season softball tournament will begin this Sunday at the athletic fields on Eisenhower. First round action in the "Balls" League will begin immediately following the completion of the regular season games.

In the Women's League,

Alpha Gam is leading the way with a 4-1 record. Hendy's Hens are one game back with a 3-1 mark and Phi Mu rounds out the league at 0-5.

The Intramural Co-Ed volleyball season came to a close last week as the PLD's captured the regular season crown with a 6-0 record. However, the Variety Pack, 5-1, upset the PLD's in the finals of the post season tournament to claim the tournament championship. Three-on-three basketball also came to an end last week. In the Alpha Division, the Zapps, 3-0 captured the League and tournament championships. The Do Da's Bee's, also 3-0 were the league champions in the Omega Division. However, ROTC captured the post season tournament crown.

After the first round of Co-ed Inner-tube Water Basketball, the ROTC Rockfish, the Titanics, and the Whales all boast 1-0 records. The Sigma Nu Snakes, 0-2, and the Sigma Kappa Chi Squids 0-1, round out the league. Water basketball is played at the 12:30 hour in the ASC pool.

If you've never watched it played, you don't know what you're missing.

The Intramural Horseshoe Tournament began this past week with the beginning of first round matches. Scores and results will be posted on the Intramural

ASC Hosts Weightlifting Tournament

by Kelly Harbaugh

On April 8 and 9, the American Weightlifting Championships were held at the ASC gym. Howard's Gym, who hosted the tournament, captured the team championship with a total of 87 points. Phillip Friedman, a student from Savannah Country Day representing Howard's Gym, took the 1st place honors in the 123 lb. division. Friedman, who was unopposed in the competition cleared 154 in the snatch and 198 in the clean and jerk for a combined total of 352 pounds.

Mike Jacques, another local, set a meet record of 300 pounds in the clean and jerk on his way to capturing 1st place in the 148 pound class. Jeff Johnson, who had a combined score of 666, captured the overall title in the 181 pound class.

Tommy Calandro had a score of 666 to take the 198 pound division.

In perhaps the most exciting match-up of the competition Jeff Johnson edged out runner-up Paul Thomas by a score of 322-320 to capture the overall title in the 181 pound division.

Other champions in the competition include Tom Defilippi in the heavy weight division and Doug Kortemeyer in the super heavy weight division. According to SGA President Jimmy Ray, "The best lifters in the country were here. It was an exciting competition and a real honor to be able to host such a prestigious event."

All of the tournament champions will compete in the nationals later this year.

Tennis Team Places Fourth

by Kelly Harbaugh
1982 has not exactly been a banner year for the ASC men's tennis team. Hampered by injuries, losing three key players to ineligibility, and a somewhat slim budget, Coach Bob Patterson's Pirates have struggled all year long. Despite these problems, the Pirates managed to win five of their last ten matches and place fourth overall in the NAIA District 25 tennis tournament held in Rome, Georgia. Keith Strong, ASC's top player and team captain lost in the semi-finals of the No. 1 singles division to the eventual winner Clay Hightower of Shorter College. Tommy Patterson, a freshman, lost in the quarter finals of the No. 2 singles position, and Karl Grotheer lost in the quarters at the No. 6 singles. Grotheer, a sophomore, also lost to the eventual winner of his division. In doubles, Grotheer and Danny Barta advanced to the quarter finals in the No. 2 doubles before bowing to Flagler College. Tommy Patterson and Reggie Goldsmith also lost in the quarter finals to a Flagler team. Flagler College captured the overall team championship. According to Patterson, "The team showed steady improvement near the end of the season. We won five of our last ten matches against fairly strong teams." Hopefully with a little luck and the addition of a few players, the Pirates will bring championship tennis back to the college in 1983. Tryouts for next year's team are May 17, at the ASC courts. Anyone interested in trying out should contact Dr. Bob Patterson.
